5th Grade Band

August 2021

Welcome back to school! I hope your summer went well and everyone is ready for the school year to be in full swing! This year, 5th grade band will look a little different. I am splitting my day between the high school and the elementary school. Students will still receive lessons once a week. They will receive their lesson time in the coming weeks. For the start of the year, full band will only be on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. As the year moves forward this may change. I will let you know if any changes are made to the full band schedule.

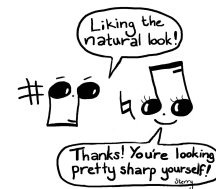

Students should bring their instruments, music binders and music books with them on Mondays. They may leave their instrument and binders at the school through Friday, if this will help them make sure that their instrument is here for their lessons and full band. Students may bring their instruments home any day of the week to practice if they would like, but they must go home each Friday, or the last day of the school week.

5th grade band will not be marching in the Halloween parades this year. This change is happening due to my shortened day at the elementary school. We will still work on fun music that we may have played for the parades throughout the year and I hope to include a pep-band type song or two in our Spring Concert.

Dates to Remember:

- August 27th - Band Handbook Signature Page Due
- November 4th - FAF Radiothon

Students who have this signed and returned will receive one token.
